TOWN OFFICIALS

FACE FIRING SQUAD

With little more than the average amount of pomp, the new members of the 1938 town council of Blairmore were sworn into office on Monday night by Commissioner A. J. Kelly.

Prior to the rising of the curtain, upwards of one hundred persons had gathered to hear the opening announcement of the mayor, taken from the third column of the front page of The Worker, and which he stated read: "The Reds also got control at the Soo."

Following the oath being administered to Messrs. W. Knight, Joe Krkosky, Joe Aschacher and Albert Olson, His Worship announced the complete slate for 1938 as follows: Mayor Bill (not Bill Thompson) Knight; Councillors W. L. Evans (anti-red), R. Peressini, Evan Morgan, Joe Krkosky, Joe Aschacher and Albert Olson, and slate of committees was announced as follows:

Police—Evans; Peressini, Morgan; finance—Morgan, Peressini, Aschacher; public works—Peressini, Morgan, Aschacher; relief—Aschacher, Olson, Morgan; fire and water—Krkosky, Evans, Aschacher; light—Olson, Krkosky, Evans. The first named in each case to act as chairman.

A motion by R. Peressini was to the effect that the chairman of the public works department be in charge of all work, including relief work.

The report of Dr. R. P. Stewart, medical health officer was received. Dr. Stewart was reappointed for another year.

At this stage the firing squad came into action, with motions introduced, calling for thirty-days notice to the chief of police, electrician and fire chief. All motions were carried, W. L. Evans dissenting each and R. Peressini not voting against the electrician.

Asked by Councillor Evans for reasons for such drastic action, he was told that both the chief and electrician were inefficient, the only reason cited in connection with the chief being that he neglected to collect certain dog taxes, including one from His Worship. Asked again if it wasn't the duty of any and every dog owner to report at the secretary's office and pay license there, the mayor replied: "Certainly not!" (Dog owners of Blairmore should bear this in mind as coming straight from the mayor.)

The next line for slaughter proved to be Mr. Corbett, a dominion government official, having charge of the local customs house. A motion was advanced, requesting the secretary to write the federal department of finance and customs to have Mr. Corbett removed from Blairmore immediately. No reasons were stated, but one can read between the lines.

After letting the hatchet fall on these departments, Mayor Knight gave notice that at the next regular meeting of the town council he would make a motion calling for the enactment of two new by-laws under sections 292-293 of the Town Planning Act. (Business tax and personal property tax.) The motion will be presented at the next meeting and come up for first reading.

Mayor instructed secretary-treasurer to ascertain if the council had authority to impose a tax on the B.E.S.L. and report his findings at the next meeting.

Some discussion arose over the erection of a brick incinerator at the nuisance grounds. The motion was tabled until next meeting.

Considerable discussion arose over the arrears in water and light rates which amount to $8,800, with little chance of it being collected. It was decided that drastic steps must be taken and if necessary the service be discontinued to delinquents.

The matter was tabled until the next meeting to allow the light and water committee time in which to go over the list of delinquents.

DANCE REVUE

PROVES POPULAR

A pretty and interesting dance revue, under the auspices of the local Girl Guides movement and directed by Miss Eileen Jones, of Hillcrest, was held in the Columbus hall, Blairmore, last Friday night. It was greeted by a packed hall and voted one of the best entertainments held in Blairmore for some time.

The graceful manner in which the members of the dancing class performed their dances was a treat and the numbers were encored many times by the audience. Considerable credit is due Miss Jones for the success she met in training the children in their various dance numbers.

During the programme a troop of Girl Guides and Brownies put on a drill and parade, sang troop songs, which met with the approval of the large audience.

Orchestration by the orchestra under the direction of J. E. Upton were well received as were the piano-accompanied selections rendered by S. Irono. The whole programme was in charge of the Girl Guides who were organized in Blairmore a little over a year ago, and considerable surprise was expressed by all that such a large and interesting programme would have been arranged and handled by the girls themselves. The success of the revue bespeaks well of the training the girls receive in the Girl Guide movement. The officers of the Girl Guides are Mesdames Harper, Rhynas, Macalister and Granger, while Mrs. L. L. Morgan and Miss Snood look after the training of the Brownies.

The programme follows: Upton's orchestra; Sailors' Hornpipe; Brownies' Drill; tap dance (Gertrude Scott, Carlotta Fleming and Clare Bundy); acrobatic dance; Irish reel (Polly and Peggy Gushul); Girl Guide Drill; tap dance (Vernadella Packer); Highland Fling (Prasca Gushul); accordions solo (Mr. S. Trono); acrobatic group dance; orchestra selection; Dance of the Wind (Sheila Corbett); Let's Put Out the Light (Peggy Norton); Girl Guide song; Polka (Polly and Prasca Gushul); dance "Sheen Trews" (Gertrude Scott); Fit as a Fiddle (Clare Bundy and Eileen Richards); Russian dance (Carlotta Fleming); orchestra selection; finale, Baggy Breeches (Eileen Richards).

Miss Nellie Royle acted as accompanist on the piano with Roy Upton and B. Picard assisting.—Ex.

DEATH OF MRS FINES

The death occurred at an early hour on Monday morning, at the residence of her daughters, Mrs. Fraser and Mrs. Joseph Wolstenholme, of Mrs. Hannah Bella Fines, at the ripe age of seventy-nine. Mrs. Fines was a native of Scotland, coming out to Canada many years ago. Her husband predeceased her by quite a number of years. The remains are being laid to rest in the Union cemetery this afternoon.

JOE E. BROWN LIKES TO COLLECT SOUVENIRS

Joe E. Brown has many souvenirs of his long and successful career on stage and screen, but there are two that he prizes above all others. The two are one of Frank Wyckoff's track shoes, with which the runner broke the world record, and a Bobby Jones putter.

Brown's latest First National picture, "The Tenderfoot," brings him to the screen of the Orpheum theatre for the balance of the week, as a drawing, Texas cowboy who goes to New York and becomes a producer.

Young people of the United church are asked to keep in mind the special Young People's service on Sunday evening next, at 7.30. All are welcome. Adults are asked to encourage the young people by their presence.

HE HAD TO REDUCE

Easiest Way Proved the Best

A man who had been advised by his doctor to reduce, writes thus:—"I had put on weight to the extent of 200 lbs. This was excessive as I am only 5-ft. 6-in. in height. My doctor advised me to reduce, and I tried hot baths and massage. This, however, was too fatiguing—and I am a very busy man. I then saw an announcement about Kruschen Salts, bought a bottle, and commenced taking them right away. Last Saturday I weighed myself, and to my surprise and delight I had reduced my weight from 200 lbs. to 190 lbs. My health generally is better, I sleep well, and eat more heartily. I have spread the good news to my friends who are putting on weight."—W.H.R.

Her heart leaped at the thought, and her whole manner toward Alan changed. She drew near him, slipped an arm about him; and a softness came into her voice.

"Dear, you're sorry to be out. I'm sorry to see you hurt. You didn't want to leave home, Alan. I—I didn't want you to; but I wouldn't have insisted. I'd have given in to you, dear, before I'd seen you unhappy. In the long run, we'll not regret; it'll be the best for us."

"Alan watched the candle shen in her hair, the softness that always brought him poignant memories of her brother Curt. His thoughts, leaping ahead to his lone-handed venture, were scarcely with her at all, yet he was bewildered by her sudden change, her ardent affection. There had been times when affection from her would have cheered and heartened him; but now her lips, inviting him, asking for his own, meant less than the pack lying at his feet.

She asked him: "And now—you're going to take—we'll be down in Victoria, now? Won't Colonel Steele be glad when he hears? You'll write to him right away?"

"I suppose so. Yes, I'm going to take that job. Not much else to turn to."

She noticed how cold, how unmoved he was; and she went on, half-whispering:

"On our way outside, we can be married at Edmonton, and have that trip we planned to the Blackfoot Belkirs. And we'll have—we can afford to have now—a cabin back in Vancouver Island; back in the mountains by ourselves, Alan."

He merely said, gesturing at the alcove: "The leaving Curt's-keepsakes here. You'll wait after them, won't you?" And he added, "I'm leaving here tonight, Elizabeth."

"Leaving here? Tonight?" Her eyes went to the pack on the floor. Suddenly startled, she looked up at him again.

Feeling that he owed some explanation to the girl he was engaged to, he partly explained: "I'm pitching off on a trip, Elizabeth. By myself. I'm going after those men that shot up two of my friends. Haskell blocked a patrol I wanted to make. To go after them I had to be free. I don't know how long I'll take me. Maybe three weeks, maybe six. I'd like for you to wait here."

Something in his manner stopped Elizabeth from questioning him. She knew he intended to marry her and take her to Victoria; but something told her that in this present hour it was not well to question or oppose Alan Baker.

She acquiesced: "I'll wait, dear. I'll wait here for you. But, Alan, before you go . . ." She stood on tiptoe, reproaching him, begging, "Aren't you going to tell me good-bye?"

Alan bent and kissed her, as she invited. But he did it dispassionately, as a thing expected of him. He felt her breath on his cheek, her arm tightening around him, her body pressed against his. He was subtly but unmistakably aware of a certain willingness about her; she wanted him to linger; she would have stayed with him there in the cabin . . .

It surprised, it shocked him, after all these months when she had been so cold and unresponsive. He was startled to sniff the two candles in the alcove, he heard a thumping foot-step on the threshold and turned to see Bill Hardcock. In a flash he guessed that Bill had been waiting outside, not wanting to come in while Elizabeth was there.

"Alan! H—H's blue blazes!" Bill was all but incoherent as he advanced across the cabin. "Say it isn't so! I heard . . . wasn't meaning to listen. Joyce told me part of it, and I just heard you tell Elizabeth. He didn't bust you? He didn't dare! And blame you for splitting our patrol? You didn't buy out . . ."

"That's what I did, Bill. He busted me, blamed me. What's worse, he wouldn't let us make 'the Indian trip. I couldn't stand that. I'm out. Leaving Endurance. Right now." Bill's face turned gray. His jaw dropped, he stood in stupefied shock, with a look of misery on his blund, bulldog features.

"You're—leaving—us," he blurted. "You're—pitching away—for good. You always stood up for us men, against Haskell. You and me . . . pretty good partners. . . . Now you won't be here any more, Alan. . . ."

"Bill, shake yourself together and listen. I'm going after those bandits. There's several things you've got to do for me. One is, I want you to cut aside from patrols whenever you can and visit Joyce and see she's safe. Another thing. I'm giving you this cabin and what's in it, except for a little personal stuff that I'll get some time or else send for. Then, there's one last thing. Got any free time coming in the next couple weeks?"

"I don't know. Yes, must have three or four days—we've been hitting the ball all winter."

"Two days will be enough. I need a little help on my plan; and you, here at Endurance, you can give me a hand. It's not much, but it'll mean a lot to me. I'll tell you what I've got in mind, so you'll understand."

In a few terse sentences that left Bill gasping and swearing at so staggering a scheme, Alan sketched his plan.

"And you'll keep quiet about this, Bill? Don't tell Ted, Elizabeth, Drummond, anybody. If it ever gets out, it'd wreck the whole idea, and I'd probably land in a penitentiary."

"I'll keep quiet as a dead dog. I won't breathe a word. But Alan, why in h—, way we've hung together, why can't I be in on your trick?" Eagerly he pleaded. "Let me go along, Alan."

"It'd mean desertion for you. Haskell would give you the limit. And you've got to watch after Joyce. My work is a one-man job anyway. We'll keep in touch, Bill. You write to me. Lord knows but—what you and I sometimes on ahead, might get together again."

They shook hands. Alan hurried down the slope to the trading store. Factor Drummond had not gone to bed. The news of the patrol, of his old friend Dave McKenzie being arrested and faced with such overwhelming evidence of guilt, had upset him.

"What the devil, Alan?—civilian clothes!"

Alan was weary of people's astonishment. He wasted no time with explanations. "Drummond, where's old Dad Pence? I saw him here when we got back this evening."

Drummond pointed behind the counter. Alan walked around, up the narrow aisle, and there found old Pence asleep on a pile of wolf skins.

He had played his three score and ten, old Dad Pence, at prospecting, trapping, water dogging, whatnot. He had made fortunes and guilelessly had lost them to men sharper than he. He had come down to the twilight of life penniless, homeless, childless. But old Dad Pence could still handle a rifle with the beat of the youngsters; and a reputation for magic which he had acquired among the witch-killing Indians, still clung to him and put fear into primitive hearts. Altogether he was the man for Alan's purpose, if only Joyce would not mother him too much and make his existence there after too desolate by contrast.

Shaking him wide enough awake to understand what was wanted of him, Alan explained. He was to go back to the Big Alouka with Joyce and watch after her. He was to keep in touch with Bill Hardcock. Under no circumstances was he to wander off into the bush and leave Joyce alone.

Old Pence nodded. "I'll do it, b'y, just as you say. I'll try not to forget and wander off in the bush. I'll look after Joyce, you don't worry."

Alan thrust a handful of bills into his pocket, and rose up and stepped back around the counter. "I want to buy your motor canoe, Drummond. How much?"

Carrier Pigeons Assist Fire Prevention Work

Birds Covered 5,600 Miles in Northern Manitoba Last Year

Although carrier pigeons of the forestry department branch in northern Manitoba flew 5,600 miles with messages during the last year, only five birds were lost, according to Robert S. Harvey, who is in charge of fire prevention in The Pas area.

There were 61 pigeons in the loft at Cormorant base, Mile 42, Hudson Bay Railway. Last year 20 birds were lost. Ten suffered casualties in training. Two birds were carried on every flight made by aeroplanes.

The birds carried messages from Norway House, Winnipeg, Cedar Lake, Herb Lake and Cold Lake. The loss of five birds is considered small, as flying in hazards in the north, where settlements are few, where the smoke of forest fires interferes with their course and where hawks are ever watching for an opportunity to swoop down on smaller birds.

Canada's Trade With Japan Is Increasing

Exchange Conditions One Cause According To Japanese Importer

Due to exchange conditions and precarious position of some western United States banks, much Japanese business with this continent has been diverted from the United States to Canada, declared M. Nakata, Japanese lumber and wheat importer, in an interview at Montreal.

"We can buy as much wheat in Canada for $2 as we could from the United States for $2.50," he stated, adding it was noticeable the business of the Seattle office of his organization was declining, while that of his Vancouver branch was on the upturn.

A greater demand for wheat would follow the imminent move of the Japanese government to stabilize and control the price of rice, he stated. An increase in the price level of rice would aid wheat sales.

Little Helps For This Week

"Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall He not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?"—Matthew 6:30.

"I trust in the mercy of God forever and ever."—Psalm 52:8.

I saw a delicate flower had grown up two feet high, between the horses' path and the wheel track. An inch or more to right or left would have sealed its fate, or an inch higher, and yet it lived to flourish as much as though it had a thousand acres of untrampled space around it, and never knew the danger it incurred. It did not borrow trouble or invite an evil fate by apprehending it.—Henry D. Thoreau.

The Average Voter

The average Canadian knows at 19 how he is going to vote at 90. Dr. F. W. Patterson, president of Acadia University, told a Halifax service club. The great majority of the population is influenced by habitual or emotional reactions, and guided more by party loyalties than by intelligence, he said. Four out of five did not know what they were voting for in normal times.

W. J. BARTLETT, PUBLISHER

Blairmore, Alta., Thur., Feb. 23, 1933

There are thousands of Dominion government employees, a thousand or more provincial government employees, thousands of civil government employees and thousands of employees of private corporations in Canada, over which the Blairmore council has just as much jurisdiction as over Mr. Corbett, local HIGHLY-RESPECTED customs official, but against whom the local "demand" organization may yet take action. It is slightly beyond the idea of the smallest school tot to conceive such an idea as that perpetrated by the first meeting of Blairmore's council, members of which declare they are not "Red" or not "Communists," but who are wholeheartedly falling for the dictates of their god, Harvey Murphy. It is years since the authorities at Ottawa have had such real laughing matter to consider—and we have good reason to feel just how much time will be wasted consigning same to the w.p.

In a year when business statements are, on the whole, far from cheering, the published experience of life insurance makes heartening reading.

While other investments have too often proved disappointing, every policy held in our life insurance companies is still worth one hundred cents on the dollar, with substantial additions in accumulating dividends.

The steady flow of insurance funds into productive industry is one of the greatest mainstays of business today. But few realize the extent of this financial support in the case of individuals. Payments to policyholders and their dependants during the year, for instance, by the Sun Life of Canada, whose statement appears in another column, climbed to over $108,000,000. A portion of this represents money that the assured could obtain only on the value of their policies to meet the special exigencies of a distressing period.

These and other conditions during the past three or four years have subjected life insurance companies to a most exacting test. The war and the influenza epidemic, by abnormally increasing mortalities, produced a situation against which human foresight could scarcely provide. The financial catastrophe by which they were so closely followed created conditions that only the strongest institutions could withstand.

Yet, during the three years in question, the business of the Sun Life Company increased by nearly five hundred million dollars and its assets by forty-three million dollars. Two number of its policyholders increased, during that period, by over two hundred thousand and now amounts to nearly a million. This resiliency under abnormal strain is both amazing and reassuring to the man in the street.

One explanation of the ability of an insurance company to meet all its obligations under such trying conditions is that its obligations are so scientifically estimated that it is able to provide for all expenditures out of ordinary revenue. This renders it unnecessary to dispose of assets during a period of depressed prices, and makes the fluctuations of security prices a matter of no special concern.

The report of the Sun Life refers to the fact that the total of its assurances in force—nearly three billion dollars—will be payable during the present generation. If to this huge sum be added the amount payable during the same period by other insurance companies the wholesome effect upon the economic and social situation in the coming years can scarcely be over-estimated.

THE TOWN ACT

At this time of year, the Town Act invariably comes up for discussion, particularly that section which refers to the eligibility of civic officials for office.

Section 28 of the Act says: "The following shall not be eligible to be elected mayor or member of the council—any judge, sheriff, bailiff, gaoler, constable, assessor, secretary-treasurer, auditor or other paid official of the town (e) any person having himself, or by or with or through another, an interest in any contract with the council, or with any person or persons acting for the council or in any contract under which any money of the town is to be paid for any service, work, matter or thing."

This clause in the Act was, no doubt, inserted for the laudable purpose of removing graft from public office. It discouraged citizens seeking office, for the purpose of directing town business to themselves. But if observed in the letter rather than the spirit, it deters many able men from assuming civic responsibilities.

In many towns under normal conditions the clause is observed in spirit, and the drastic wording is ignored. But unfortunately the question may come up at any time, and become an issue.

It is too great a sacrifice to expect of the average man in business, to give not only his time and ability to the service of the town, but also to act himself off from enjoying such a share of town business, as would normally fall to him as a private citizen. Many men, rather than lay themselves open to violation of the Act, refuse absolutely to take any civic office. This is a loss of good material and service which is experienced by many towns and municipalities.

For this reason, it would seem necessary that the terms of the Act be amended, in order to prevent exploitation of town business, and yet permit a councillor to enjoy legally his normal share of civic trade.

Every town should be able to make full use of the ability of any or all of its citizens; but until the Act is amended, there is much fine material which will refuse to accept any civic office.—High River Times.

Seventy-five members of an all-aged liquor ring were indicted by the federal grand jury. The indictments charged them with gathering $6,000,000 in profits from sixty stills from 1929 to 1932.

Supreme court jury held the municipality of Carbon responsible for an accident in which James P. O'Rourke was killed, and awarded $3120 damages to Basil O'Rourke, four-year-old son of the driver of the car and the fatally injured woman. The accident happened in May of last year, when their car toppled over an impaired stretch of highway.

A grand masquerade dance is to be held in the B. & B. hall at Corbin on St. Patrick's night. Corbin, the only town in western Canada that has not heard of the depression, is pursuing the even tenor of its way. The mimes are working four and five days a week, and everybody is happy, while the employees wonder what this thing depression means. To keep green that memory of Ireland's patron saint, the town will honor St. Patrick in true Irish style by the holding of this dance. Dick Burke is the moving spirit behind the affair.

Services Sunday, February 26th.
11 a.m.—Senior School.
2 p.m.—Junior School.
7.30 p.m.—Young People's service.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO CONDUCT UNITED CHURCH SERVICE ON SUNDAY

It is the desire of the minister and board of Blairmore United church that the young people should find themselves perfectly at home within the church. It is their belief that a church which neglects the needs of the young people is lacking in vision, for we are building for a better tomorrow as well as a better today, and for the realization of our aims and ideals, we must look to our young people for co-operation and train them for the task of future leadership.

Sunday evening will be particularly a young people's service. That does not mean, of course, that the older people are to stay at home. Rather does it mean that we want the adults present to give encouragement to the young people. It does mean also that we expect to see a large gathering of young people in the church. We not only look for every member of the Young People's Society to be present, but we would like to see other young people who are not members of the society. The young people themselves will conduct the service and will deliver the message or messages. A group of about six will lead the service of praise and prayer. All are welcome to our service.—A. E. LARKE.

CLARESHOLM PAYS TRIBUTE TO BLAIRMORE

Anyone who did not get their thirty-five cents' worth of hockey last Saturday night when Blairmore played here, were surely hard to entertain. We readily admit that the home team was soundly defeated, but they were by no means whitewashed, and on account of their over-enthusiasm overated three wonderful scoring opportunities. The era score Clareholm got was packed in by Jack Stewart after Ross Moffatt returned his pass right on top of Blairmore goal. Blairmore scored once in the first, twice in the second and three times in the final period. Their forward lines were a picture to see, and what some of us were wondering was how the locals kept as many as they did out of the scoring section.

Blairmore's beloved Tony put on a good exhibition and was ably supported by M-Kay, Oakes, Anderson, etc. Hackett handled the game here and was completely satisfactory to the visitors. Blairmore also paid the locals the compliment of being the cleanest bunch of hockeyists that they had ever played a succession of games with.—Clareholm Local Press.

"TWO SECONDS" TELLS LIFETIME STORY—

Before John Allen enters the death chamber, the doctor explains that it takes about two seconds for a man to review his whole life while in the electric chair.

The two-second thought which becomes a one hour film drama took five weeks to film and required a large cast of specially selected players, specially constructed sets and many hours to executive conferences.

Edward G. Robinson, the thousand characters, portrays John Allen in "Two Seconds," at the Orpheum, beginning Monday of next week.

AS SEEN FROM THE GALLERY OF THE ALBERTA LEGISLATURE

The galleries of the Alberta Legislature were crowded to the doors last Monday to hear W. R. Howson, the Liberal leader, open the debate on the speech from the Throne. Mr. Howson backed up his statements by quoting his printed records of the government and during the course of his address stated that if the government was to adopt the C.C.F. platform of nationalization they should resign and appeal to the people for a new mandate.

The highlights of his address were:

1. That the Liberal policy was a home-saving policy in contrast to the new policy of the C.C.F. and U.F.A. government, which was a home-taking policy through heavy taxation.
2. That the Debt Adjustment Act of the provincial government was not truly a Debt Adjustment Act that would adjust the debts and not postpone them.
3. Mr. Howson said there should be established by the government of the Dominion of Canada a Federal Bank under the Finance Act for the purpose of directing and controlling the issue of currency and the extension of credit, and particularly for the financing of provinces and municipalities on the basis, (a) That such a bank accept the bonds of the province and municipalities at par, (b) That such a bank charges the provinces and municipalities a rate of interest sufficient only to cover the bare costs of operation, plus a reasonable percentage to build up a safe reserve.
4. That the U.F.A. government was now replaced by the C.C.F. government, without a mandate from the people.
5. Mr. Howson thought that this session should be a home-saving session, but if the C.C.F. programme was carried out, it would be a home-taking session.

In the absence of the Premier, the minister of education took up the case for the government, and in the usual "merry mood" assured the House and the country at large that all is well. He defended the expenses of every department. The doubling of the provincial debt is justified, provided some other province has made the same blunder. His speech was very entertaining, but consisted in a great measure of clippings from various newspapers. One pleasing feature of his address, however, was that if his department was costing too much, it could be run for less. If a janitor service of sixty thousand dollars was too high for the Edmonton normal school, it could be reduced.

Mr. D. W. Duggan, leader of the Conservative party, in one of the best speeches heard in the house this session, condemned the financial policy of the government. Continuation has now reached the staggering sum of $143,650,518; in other words $156.40 for every man, woman and child in Alberta. This, he said, when added to federal and municipal debts, was truly alarming.

Mr. Duggan was followed by Mr. Fred White, leader of the labor party, who in his eulogy of the C.C.F. gave the impression that the U.F.A. and labor has been swallowed up entirely by the newer organization and were no longer distinct bodies. Had there been any doubt in the minds of any persons, they were removed by Mr. Gibbs, member for Edmonton, who has spoken since, confirming Mr. White's declaration.

QUESTION OF DEPORTATION

Many Canadians will learn with pleasure that the attempt of the Federal Immigration authorities to deport Peter Veregin, the Doughboy leader, without a public hearing of any sort has been frustrated by the action of his lawyers in appealing to the Nova Scotia Supreme Court at Halifax. C. B. Smith, K.C., representing the immigration department, stated before Mr. Justice Humphrey Mellish, that Veregin's sentence of eighteen months for perjury, which he was serving at Prince Albert, and of which he had served nine months, had been commuted. J. J. Powers, K.C., for Veregin, demanded records to support Mr. Smith's statement, declaring that his client could not be deported until he had served his full term. The hearing was adjourned until February 17, when the records will be produced in obedience to a court order of Judge Mellish. Veregin, in the meantime, remains in the immigration detention quarters at Halifax.

It may or may not be desirable to deport Veregin, but whether it is or not, it most certainly is far from desirable to have him and other citizens of foreign birth picked up by the immigration authorities, rushed to the seaboard without even the semblance of a public hearing, in many cases without giving them a chance to say goodbye to their relatives. The whole procedure is the very antithesis of the methods we have been taught to believe are a part of British justice. According to a recent judgment in Quebec, the actions of the immigration authorities do not come under the courts in Canada.

If men are to be deported, let the authorities state their case before the courts in a proper way and let the man bring forward his own witnesses. Let him have a fair trial and let the immigration department abide by the result.—Red Deer Advocate.

Far exceeding all expectations, Alberta's entries for the World Grain Congress at Regina in July totals 267. In the wheat and oats classes, appears Herman Trelle, world wheat and oats champion, and a host of well known exhibitors who have been well up in the prize monies of many exhibitions during the past ten years, as well as a large number of new exhibitors. Trelle has also entered a sample of Durum wheat.

NO LIFTING OF BAN ON LIQUOR EXPORTS TO U.S.

Ottawa, Ont.—While the United States senate was adopting a resolution to repeal the 18th amendment, the Canadian House of Commons decided against lifting the export ban on liquor shipments to the United States.

Premier R. B. Bennett and Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leaders of the Conservative and Liberals, united in opposing a bill sponsored by Col. S. C. Robinson (Cons., Essex West) to repeal the 1930 legislation which outlawed liquor exports to dry countries. The bill was defeated 100 to 44, the members for the most part voting regardless of party affiliation. Two cabinet ministers voted for the bill. They were Hon. R. J. Macdonald, Minister of Railways, and Hon. Arthur Sauve, postmaster-general. Of the 44 supporting the bill, 22 were Conservatives, 19 Liberals, two Labor and one Independent.

It was a principle of international law, to say nothing of international goodwill and neighborliness, said Premier Bennett, that no country should provide an opportunity for its own citizens to break the laws of another. The United States was still a dry country. Liquor still was considered contraband, and for Canada to legalize exports to that country would be a breach of international friendship.

The 1930 customs prohibition, the Prime Minister said, would not apply to liquor shipments to the United States the day that country repealed the 18th amendment.

The ban would not apply because the United States then would not be classed as a dry country.

Removal of the export ban was urged on several grounds—because Canada was losing millions of dollars of revenue, because it would provide employment for Canadians and would permit liquor shipments to leave openly for the United States, not through St. Pierre, Miquelon and other backdoor routes.

Repeal of the export ban, said Mr. King, would place the government of Canada in the position of "knowingly and openly aiding and abetting smugglers in the violation of the laws of a friendly and neighboring country." It would encourage run-running along the Canadian frontier, making Windsor and other border points a base for criminal operations, and "if we are reduced in this country to a position where we can get our revenue and provide employment only by becoming partners in the run-running business, things have come to a strange pass."

Doping Race Horses

Call Attention To The Matter In Alberta Legislature
Edmonton, Alberta.—Doping of horses at race courses in this province will have the effect of killing the sport, warned J. J. Bowen, Liberal, Calgary, when addressing the legislature in the debate on the speech from the throne.

The investigations made by government inspectors show that there had been drug use in the race-horse industry at Victoria Park, in Calgary, and in Edmonton, said the speaker. He hoped some government action would be taken to curb the practice.

Speaking of the proposed banter with Russia, Mr. Bowen said private capital might be induced to give the necessary guarantee if no arrangement could be made with the Federal Government.

(In diplomatic usage the arbitrary handing of passports to diplomats of a foreign nation means the breaking off of diplomatic relations.)

Lima, Peru.—Peruvian military forces claim to be still holding their positions in the disputed Leticia territory after the first clash with a Colombian flotilla that came 2,000 miles up the Amazon river to reassert control over the area.

Cumbersome Procedure

Says Board Of Directors Could Accomplish More Than Legislators
Ottawa, Ont.—Parliamentary efficiency experts cast a critical eye over the House of Commons and agreed its procedure was cumbersome and expensive but in a three-hour discussion could not agree on a solution.

An opposition board of directors would accomplish more in three weeks than parliament accomplished in three months exclaimed Peter McGibbon (Cons., Muskoka), when introducing a resolution to establish a committee to consider overhauling parliamentary customs.

REVENUES FROM CUSTOMS SHOW HEAVY DECLINE

Ottawa, Ont.—Customs and excise revenue of Canada shows a decrease of $14,859,924 for the elapsed 10 months of the present fiscal year as compared with the corresponding period last year. The 10-month period ended with January 31.

Figures issued through the department of national revenue reveal that a net total of $55,991,628 was collected in customs duties during the 10-month period just ended, a decrease of $27,551,477, compared to the corresponding period of last year when net customs collections amounted to $83,543,105.

In the excise tax field collections recorded an increase of $20,832,646 as compared with the 10-month period of a year ago.

Increased sales tax, etc., produced $68,350,567 during the 10 months just ended, as compared with $47,397,920 in the 10 months last year.

Excise duties are down $8,526,802 to $33,173,117, as compared with $41,699,920 in the 10 months ended January 31, 1932.

The amount realized from income tax during the 10 months just ended was $50,009,774 or $101,421 less than during the 10 months last year.

Total customs and excise revenue during the 10 months just ended was $161,274,788.

Red Deer Reduces Mill Rate

Improved Collections and Economy Program Favored Way

Red Deer, Alta.—Local authorities have kept their promise to Red Deer taxpayers.

Council voted to reduce the tax rate from 44 mills to 41 mills for 1933 requirements, the first reduction ever made in the tax rate in the city's history. An economy programme and improved tax collections paved the way for the reduction, leaving the city in a first rate financial situation.

House Discusses Court Immunity For Indians

Suggested Changes To Indian Act Arouse Storm Of Disapproval

Ottawa, Ont.—The House of Commons spent two hours discussing its official wards—the Indians. When Hon. T. O. Murphy, Minister of the Interior, introduced a bill to appoint Royal Canadian Mounted Police constables as Indian trust officers and make other changes to the Indian Act, he aroused a storm of disapproval and opened a wide discussion.

The broad subject of the legal responsibility of Indians was introduced by several members, who claimed it was illogical for a red man to be immune from court action when operating an automobile on the highways.

A. W. Neill, (Ind., Comox-Alberni) asserted he knew of a case in which a white man had been run down by an Indian. Because the Indian was a ward of the government, the injured man could get no redress. Also, as the Indian received no punishment, he would feel at liberty to go out and do the same thing again.

Mr. Murphy said an Indian using the highways was subject to provincial law, and the authorities could refuse him a license if it was found he was causing persons injury.

Opposition to the blanket appointment of officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police as trust officers was so strong that that particular clause was allowed to stand over.

Canada's Third Best Market

Exports To Holland Totalled $16,907,307 During 1932

Ottawa, Ont.—Apart from the United Kingdom and the United States, the Netherlands, exports to Holland totalled $16,907,307, compared with $15,572,765 in 1931 and $10,843,449 in 1930. Agricultural and vegetable products made up the bulk of the exports, the bureau of statistics reports.

Another European country to which there is a growing export market is Belgium. It is the next important market to that of Holland. Last year exports to Belgium totalled $14,945,452 compared with $14,357,271 in 1931, and $15,175,955 in 1930. Although in 1930 the value was greater than in 1932, the volume last year was much larger, prices being considerably lower than they were then.

Japan's Withdrawal From League Is Anticipated

Has Ceased Negotiations With Geneva In Manchurian Dispute

Tokyo, Japan.—Japan has served notice it has ceased negotiations with the League of Nations in the Manchurian dispute, but its anticipated withdrawal from League membership was not expected for about a month.

The Tokyo Stock Exchange was closed and those of Osaka and Magaya were also shut down, owing to a severe slump in prices, caused by indications of increasing anti-Japanese sentiment at Geneva.

It was learned on high authority the government feels withdrawal from the league would be the turning point in the empire's history.

Indian Trust Fund

Ottawa, Ont.—In five provinces of Canada the Indian trust fund has been greatly augmented since 1920, according to an answer given in the House of Commons today by Hon. T. G. Murphy, Minister of the Interior. The largest increase is in Alberta where the trust fund in 1920 stood at $1,641,524. It is now $3,036,009. Saskatchewan decreased from $1,947,562 to $1,780,401.

"EXPLORATIVE" DELEGATION

It is understood that the British Government proposes to send to the United States this month an expert "explorative" delegation to confer with the United States authorities on War Debts. Sir M. F. Warren Fisher, above, will probably be included in the delegation.

Approves Tribunal Clause

Adoption By Senate's Railway Committee Is Only Tentative

Ottawa, Ont.—The senate railway committee, without a recorded vote, put the stamp of approval on the clause in the new railway legislation setting up an arbitral tribunal to render decisions in the event of disputes that might arise between the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Companies in future co-operative efforts.

Although this committee had previously gone through practically the whole of the bill and prepared it for a report to the senate, all amendments relating to the proposed arbitral tribunal were only tentatively adopted pending a final decision as to whether or not any such tribunal would be set up.

Only three members of the committee opposed the tribunal. They were Senators James Murdock, John Stanford and F. L. Belu. Senator Murdock moved an amendment that in place of an arbitral tribunal, set up by the act, the disputing companies could set up conciliation boards. The motion was lost 14 to 3.

Subsequently all the amendments and clauses respecting the operations of the tribunal, tentatively adopted, were confirmed.

Disbursements For Relief

Canada Has Already Paid Eleven Million For Present Fiscal Year

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion has so far disbursed about $11,000,000 on relief for the present fiscal year. Of this amount $8,000,000 has been for direct relief. The accounts are frequently delayed and the estimate is that the relief for the year ending March 31 next will cost the federal treasury $25,000,000. The cost for the year before was about $46,000,000.

The total number receiving relief last month represented a high record of 1,357,562. While the number of unemployed receiving relief was greater in the present fiscal year than in the year previous, the cost to the Dominion will be less because most of the money this year is for direct relief instead of assisted public works.

The total number receiving relief is approximately 13 per cent. of the total population.

New Air Mail Service

Ottawa, Ont.—Inauguration of a regular air mail service between the River, Sask., and Ile a La Crosse, Sask., by way of Green Lake and Beaulieu was announced today by the post office department. The service will start operation on or about March 16.

Plea For Veregin

Doukhobors Ask Ottawa To Show Leniency To Leader

Brilliant, B.C.—The Union of Youths of Community Doukhobors today delivered a three-barbed protest to Canadian authorities against pending deportation of Peter Veregin II, monarch of all Canada's 15,000 Doukhobors, as Veregin waited at the house for the next hearing of his case before Mr. Justice Humphrey Mellish.

The Doukhobor youths, all Canadian-born, sent one message to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett that ended: "Be lenient; otherwise our welfare will lie upon your conscience."

Hon. Wesley A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration, was petitioned to stop Veregin's deportation and Mr. Justice Mellish was informed in a third telegram: "The fate of Peter Veregin is linked with the fate of 15,000 people and every harsh treatment given him is reflecting upon us all. If Peter Veregin is deported it will be great injustice."

Migration Course Turns

More People Going From Dominions To United Kingdom

London, Eng.—The course of empire migration has turned. For the first time in history, more people are now entering the United Kingdom from the Dominions than are emigrating from the United Kingdom to the Dominions.

Figures submitted in the House of Commons by J. R. Thomas, secretary for the Dominions, show an inward balance for the nine months ending September 30, 1932, of 26,034, made up as follows:

Canada, with Newfoundland, 17,644.
Australia, 8,847.
New Zealand, 1,641.
South Africa, 2,902.

ROOSEVELT HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM ASSAILANT

Miami, Fla.—A gunman fired a stream of bullets into the party of President-elect Franklin Roosevelt, wounding Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, and four others, but Mr. Roosevelt was unhurt.

A man giving the name of Joe Zingera of New York, was held as the shooter. Robert H. Gore, Chicago friend of Mr. Roosevelt, quoted the assailant as saying: "I kill all presidents, kill all officers." His shots hit also Mrs. Joe Gill of Miami; William Sinnott of this city; Russell Caldwell, a boy, and Miss Margaret Krews of Newark, N.J.

Mayor Cermak was hit in the chest. The bullet pierced the body and came out his back. Little hope for his life is held. The Chicago mayor was about 20 feet from the automobile of Mr. Roosevelt in Bayfront Park and was approaching the machine.

Startled and momentarily stunned by the firing close to his car, Roosevelt waved to the crowd and shouted "I am all right," as he was hurriedly driven away, through the confusion, bearing Cermak to a hospital.

The shooting and screams of the victims created momentary pandemonium. Quiet was quickly restored, however.

Mrs. W. F. Cross of Miami, struck the shooters' arm as he let go with the fifth shot and showed his elbow into the air. James W. Galloway of this city, and a policeman overpowered the man and shackled him to a car.

Mr. Roosevelt had just concluded speaking from his automobile, standing in Bayfront Park, and had sat down when the shooting opened.

Ordely crowds surrounded the city police station where the would-be assassin was taken.

The jail was just across the street from the railway station where Roosevelt's train had awaited him. Bystanders said the prisoner spoke with a decided foreign accent. Mr. Roosevelt, at the hospital, went to the bed of each of the victims before going to the yacht of Vincent Astor to spend the night.

The shooting turned a day of happiness for Roosevelt into one of tragedy. Only three hours before he had cruised into port here on the Al-yacht, lanned and jovial from his fishing cruise.

While deeply moved by the incident he was unharmed. He showed no excitement as his car sped away from the scene.

Gore said he heard the shooter exclaim as he was overpowered: "Well, I got Cermak."

NO IMMEDIATE REMEDY FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

London, Eng.—Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the House of Commons that reduction of unemployment to comparatively small figures could not be anticipated within the next 10 years.

The Chancellor was replying to a motion of censure against the government put forward by George Lansbury, veteran Labor leader, on the ground the administration had failed to deal with the unemployment. The motion was defeated by 414 votes to 104.

Mr. Lansbury suggested unemployment could be remedied if goods were produced for the "use of mankind" and not for private profit.

Mr. Chamberlain maintained the government was off the right road toward ultimate solution of the problem with its policy of restoring confidence, raising wholesale prices, providing cheap money and encouraging international co-operation.

He agreed with Mr. Lansbury that displacement of labor was one of the gravest problems facing the world in the immediate future.

The Chancellor's remark that it would be 10 years before unemployment would be reduced to any great extent, drew from Winston Churchill, former Conservative Chancellor, a heated rejoinder. Such a prospect was "ghastly and that if this were the government's last word, the outlook was very grave and lamentable."

Defines Policy As "Ruthless"

Charge Made Against Great Britain Before U.S. Senate Finance Committee

Washington.—"A ruthless policy" by Great Britain to drive down gold dollar prices in an effort to win war debt cancellation or reduction was charged before the United States senate finance committee by Rene Leon, of New York, formerly "technical adviser to the House of Representatives Coinage" committee.

He said that through the British exchange equalization fund for purchasing gold currencies in the open market, Great Britain had "the control of dollar exchange and consequently the control of U.S. prices."

"That which Britain would not for one minute countenance from U.S. she practices every minute upon U.S. with disastrous consequences to every phase of our economy," Leon said. "Every man, woman and child in this country is the victim of this ruthless policy."

"Debt cancellation is avowedly Britain's immediate objective, because," Leon continued, "if U.S. can be saddled with debt, U.S. industry must foot the bill through future taxes."

May Visit States

Ramsay MacDonald Would Confer With Mr. Roosevelt

London, Eng.—A movement for Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald to reach Washington about March 15 for important personal talks with Mr. Roosevelt on the broad lines of the whole future of Anglo-American policy in the field of international affairs gained strength today.

It was expected a decision on his personal mission would be reached soon after Sir Ronald Lindsay, ambassador to the United States, reaches Washington, and that it will be largely dependent upon whether Mr. Roosevelt desires Mr. MacDonald to make the trip.

U.S. To Take Action

Washington.—Reversing its previous action following the effort to assassinate President-elect Roosevelt, the United States House of Representatives judiciary committee favorably reported the Ealick bill for heavy penalties on those who advocate overthrow of the government by force or resistance to federal state officials.

Acquitted

Long Beach, California.—William James Gay, youthful West adventurer, was acquitted of a charge of murder in the slaying of Capt. Walter Wandersell aboard the yacht "Carna" last December 5.

Halts Forced Sales

Berlin, Germany.—President Von Hindenburg has signed an emergency decree extending a moratorium on mortgaged estates and farms to the farms to the entire reich to provide a breathing spell until October 31.
